PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

ANN KING-SMITH

November is always a busy month for our Florida Auxiliary members, as we have Veteran's Day and Thanksgiving both in the same month. Due to the rising numbers of Covid-19 in Florida, I know we will be thinking out of the box and celebrating both special days in ways that may be quite different from previous years. We need to always remember that the health and safety of everyone should be our first and foremost concern.

In honor of Veteran's Day, think about discussing the history of this special day at your unit meeting. You might be surprised how little your members really know about the history of Veteran's Day.

I know that so many of you work extremely hard to collect food and prepare Thanksgiving meals for many veterans and their families. This year, with so many people unemployed, the need is going to be more than ever. You make a difference in so many ways and this is no exception. Please make sure to work closely with your Unit and District Public Relations Chairman to get the word out about all you're doing for our veterans.

Speaking of Thanksgiving, I would like to thank Jan Farrington from District 13 for sharing a wonderful idea with me for the December Mail Call. Jan is highly creative, and I am always happy to have her help with great ideas. At this time of year, we need to reflect and be grateful for all our ALA unsung heroes that have helped our Units survive during this pandemic. We all have special members that have supported not only our Unit but our Posts, as well. I would like for you to submit a brief description of who they are, what they did and why it mattered. This is not a "report" but rather a "SHOUT OUT" to recognize the members that that go above and beyond the call to portray true "Service Not Self." I look forward to reading about our ALA heroes in the January Mail Call. What a great inspiration and beginning for 2021.

Please remember to submit your submissions to Department Secretary Patty MacDonald by December 15th.

In September, I started attending Unit and District functions and will be picking up with District visits in the upcoming months. I have four District visits to complete and some of those are scheduled. Please check the www.alafl.org for schedules and updates.

Yesterday, we received great news from National President, Nicole Clapp. I am proud to share her announcement that Department of Florida reached their 100% membership goal for 2019-2020. I would like to thank Department Membership Chairman Terry Gallagher and each of her area chairmen for a great job. As you know, our year came to a screeching halt in Marco, when all our Florida Posts closed. Reaching our 100% goal in the middle of a pandemic is something we can boast about for years to come. Our numbers are looking great for the 2020-2021 year and I know you will all renew and help Florida repeat our success. Please keep in mind that we may have members that feel it is a financial hardship to pay dues right now, so please think about what assistance you can offer.

Thanks to each of you for being members of our great organization. My prayer is that you will all remain safe and show care and concern for others. I know that we will all spend more time than ever this year, reflecting on the spirit of Thanksgiving.

AUXILIARY EMERGENCY FUND

LINDA KNOBLACH-HARKNESS

I am happy to say most of our members in District 1 are faring well after Sally ripped through our area. However, we do have a few of our members who need assistance and I have been trying to spread the word about the Auxiliary Emergency Fund.

I have been pondering why our members aren't aware of AEF and the only thing I can determine is that we don't really think about it until we need help and someone recommends that we apply for the AEF Grant. This can be a double-edged sword because if we are not thinking about the program, then we are not contributing to the program, nor are we promoting it during our meetings. On the other hand, if our members aren't applying for the grant, does that mean all is well?

If you are a member who needs financial help, you can find the Department and the National Applications at alafl.org. Go to Programs in the drop-down box and then Auxiliary Emergency Fund. You will find links that will get you to the applications. If you have lost use of your home, please use the Expedited Application. It is not too late to apply for a grant if you were affected by Sally. Be sure to send in the supporting documentation along with your completed application otherwise the process is slowed down dramatically. As always, I am here to help with applications. Please feel free to reach out to me (emergencyfund@alafl.org or 484-264-7892).

I have been getting word that some units have been holding fund raisers for Auxiliary Members in Louisiana and also helping with a Past Unit President who has fallen extremely ill. This just shows that our comradery and compassion for our members has no boarders. The Department of Florida shines brightly, even in dark times.

As you know, this program is funded by the members. So, the unit from each Membership Grouping that gives the highest percentage of the total unit membership will be given an award of appreciation. Please use the Donation Remittance form found at alafl.org, quick links, forms and resources, Unit Forms. Use line items Department AEF and Disaster Relief,. Units don't need to wait until April to send their donation to Department. You can send some now and later.

Thank you for your commitment and all of your hard work to fulfill the mission of the American Legion Auxiliary.

DISTRICT 6

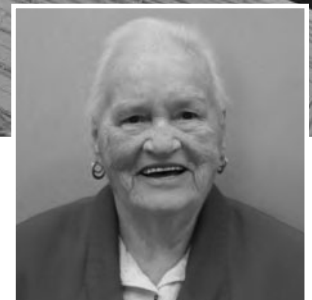

MARY LANOCE

We are in Lock Down. What does that mean to the ALA? It means that we are unable to have a Convention, regular elections, or even fundraising events that enable us to do our wonderful programs. However, some of our Units still managed to step up! Our Units came together, masked up, and 6 feet apart and were still able host fundraisers and gather donations.

Unit 41 Eustis delivered boxes of school supplies to the Eustis National Guard for children of the Guardsman. They also gave additional school supplies to the Girls Shelter in Umatilla and the Boys and Girls Club of Eustis.

Unit 80 St. Cloud put their cooking skills to the test and cooked wonderful meals with curbside delivery. They posted pictures of their menu to Facebook to show their customers what to expect when they ordered. This was so successful for them that it is now a permanent fundraiser for them! On top of that, they were able to gather $500.00 in school supplies for their local schools. Good job guys and gals, you kept Post 80 up and running!

Carol Pirone-Udell of Unit 347 Lady Lake came up with a great suggestion to host a food drive to help local food banks who were in dire need. Maureen Caswell and Carol recruited a full team of volunteers ready to assist. The Legion, Sons, and Riders hopped on board and the Post family put an excellent food drive together. The community came out in full force and they collected 8-1/2 tons of food, valued at $43,000.00. They didn't stop there though, they also gathered $5,000.00 in cash donations! Five local food banks received food donations, and each received a check for $1,000.00. It was an over the top event for a desperately needed food supply!

Lake Nona Unit 412 put together a baby shower for female veterans through the Lake Nona VA Hospital. District 6 stepped up and gave an estimated $1,000.00 in baby items and checks.

At the close of National books! Units 35 Mt. Dora, Unit 55 Minneola, Unit 112 Goldenrod, Unit 183 Fern Park, Unit 219 Fruitland Park and Unit 347 Lady Lake all closed at 100 percent membership. Congratulations District 6! Thank you all for such a great job!

DISTRICT 14

STACY CUSANO

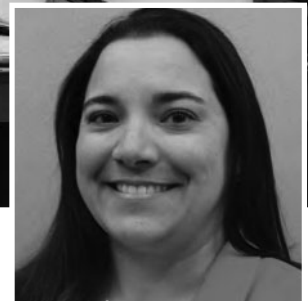

The 14th District has been slower to "reopen" than others as our County restrictions only allowed us to start gathering again at the beginning of September.

Marathon Unit 154 has been helping distribute food during the pandemic. They have also been holding fundraisers for one of their members that is battling breast cancer. Other units in our district have been hosting drive thru dinners.

Coupon cutting and can tab collecting have been going strong as that is something we can participate from home. Many units have let me know that even trying to have virtual meetings, the membership still is not attending meetings, which is making it difficult to conduct business. Hopefully we will soon be back to some normalcy. Some members have attended the virtual trainings that have been offered by National. Here is a photo of Unit 154 President Dona Beckmann on POW MIA Day.

UNIT 72

JASMINE HARRIS

Greetings from Mulberry! My name is Jasmine Harris, and I am a Junior Member of Mulberry Memorial Unit 72. I am eligible for membership through my Dad, Jeromy Harris, who is an Army Veteran. I am currently the Honorary Department of Florida Junior President as well as the Honorary National Southern Division Junior Vice President. I am a Sophomore in High School, attending Summerlin Military Academy. I enjoy playing softball, both for my school, and for the Lakeland Lady Legends, a travel ball team. When not at school or playing softball, I enjoy volunteering with projects in my Unit. However, volunteering has been more difficult since the pandemic has started. I try to do what I can at home to help, including clipping coupons for our Military families.

Speaking of COVID, as if high school wasn't stressful enough, now we have all of these restrictions to keep us safe! We wear masks from the time we board the bus, to the time we get off the bus in the afternoon, with a break from them while we eat lunch (that's about the only time we can truly tell who is who under the masks!). Our walkways and hallways are all one way. We eat lunch in our classrooms. Our desks are spaced out and there aren't as many students physically at school right now. We have our temperature taken each morning. And if someone in one of your classes tests positive for COVID, you have to stay home for 14 days and attend school via e-learning. That is what all of the schools here are doing, however with my school being a Military Academy, we are affected in other ways as well. We were unable to do Basic Training for new Cadets. We are also unable to march in formation each day. PT has had to be adjusted as well.

Softball has also been affected by COVID, last year our High School season was cut short, our Seniors never got their traditional Seniors Night. Travel Ball tournaments were cancelled for months, some counties are still not allowing tournaments to take place. There are so many new rules now to follow: wear masks, stay six feet apart, wash your hands (well, that's not a new rule, just more enforced now) and at tournaments our families cannot sit together, we cannot shake hands with the opposing team after a game.

It's so much to adjust to, however I'm thankful that we are able to get out and play. Being stuck in our house for months was getting very boring. Not to mention being stuck at home with a little brother!! When you are a kid, even a teenager, all of the rules and restrictions do get tiring. But I do understand that we all need to do our part to keep COVID at bay and keep others safe.

Even with the pandemic going on around us, and many of our events, like Department Convention and Fall Conference, being cancelled, we can all still do our part for our Military families, Veterans and communities, even us Juniors! As President Ann shared in last month's issue, the father of Mr Bill Welser from Honor Flight, had a bad fall and is in a rehab facility up North. His father is a World War II Veteran. Us Juniors could and should shower him with socially distanced love with cards of well wishes. His address is:

Bill Welser
104 Starland Way

I hope you all have a great month and stay safe!!!

The meaning behind our emblem

The American Legion Auxiliary's name and emblem have been unchanged in our 100 years of existence. Both are registered service marks in the U.S. Trademark Office, and are protected by criminal and civil enforcement provisions of federal law. For more information about the emblem or the ALA Branding Guide, visit www.ALAforVeterans.org.

On a blue circle in letters of gold stands the name of the organization: American Legion Auxiliary, a proud name made significant by service to God and Country in war and in peace. The words emphasize Americanism and service.

The field of white exemplifies the hope of freedom.

Unity and loyalty are represented by the unbroken circles in blue and gold.

The Star of Blue is the emblem of service in war; it is no less the emblem of service in a time of peace.

Set against a gold background, symbolic of rays of the sun and representing the principles of Justice, Freedom, Democracy, and Loyalty, dispelling the darkness of violence, strife and evil.

LOIS STACHELRODT

As our lives have changed so much this year, we are grateful to our Lord for keeping us safe and for giving us the wisdom to continue the fight for our freedoms.

The Men and Women who are still away from their families are some of our biggest heroes. May we all keep them in our hearts and minds. Those who have left us will watch over them and protect them till they return home.

Our newest Jr, Ashley Colegrove has distinguished herself during this pandemic with her outstanding volunteering in so many areas.

She has made masks for several area hospitals from James A Haley to John Hopkins All Children's Hospital in St. Pete. Ashley was in a competition to make Paracords to be sent to our troops overseas. She made 365 bracelets in 73 hours and placed 6th in this challenge. On September 4th Congressman Gus Bilirakis personally awarded Ashley the Congressional Award- Bronze Medal.

On the 8th of September she was chosen to be part of the (FHSA) Florida High School Athletic Association Student Athlete Advisory Committee. There are only 16 people on this committee in the entire state of Florida out of over 300,000 Florida high school athletes.

Ashley's latest award she received was the Good Deed Award from the American Legion Auxiliary. Unit 79 is so proud of Ashley and she is an inspiration to us all

LEADERSHIP

DOROTHY WALSH

Conflict Management Getting Along

To be effective and efficient in achieving their goals, American Legion Auxiliary members need to have a shared vision of what they are striving to achieve as well as clear objectives for each program committee. Taken straight from ALA National Support Tools "Conflict Management". We are all here for the same purpose – because we love our country, our veterans, our family and especially that veteran who made it possible for us to put on our American Legion Auxiliary membership pin, raise our right hand and take that oath that makes us members of the greatest organization and largest veteran support organization in the world: The American Legion Auxiliary.

What is our biggest barrier to achieving our goals? CONFLICT!!!!!! So, if we're all in it for the same reason – why all the conflict??? Why all the in-fighting? Here's some information from the National website on improving unit relationships – you can print the whole supplement out at: <file:///C:/Users/dwals/OneDrive/Documents/ALA/Leadership/ConflictResolution/ConflictResolutionAndTeamBuilding.pdf>. Printing this out and distributing it to all your unit members to read and work on together is a great team building exercise. And here's my challenge to you!! Do this team building exercise, take pictures and send them and a brief synopsis to me and I will include it in my year end report and future leadership training videos – there might even be a little something for the Unit Leadership Chairman and Unit President. Same challenge goes out to the District Presidents and District Leadership Chairmen – let's work together to get our units back on track and working together.

Here are some more tidbits and teasers from the national tool: It is important to recognize and resolve conflict among members before conflict becomes a serious problem.

Managing conflict is never easy. Conflict involves members' needs, their perceptions of reality, power, values, feelings and emotions. All members need to have ways of keeping conflict to a minimum. Conflict management is the process of planning to avoid conflict where possible and organizing to resolve conflict as rapidly and smoothly as possible.

"Competition" vs. "Conflict". Competition usually brings out the best in people as they strive to be the best in their field. Fair and friendly competition can lead to new achievements, inventions or outstanding effort in problem solving.

When competition becomes unfriendly or bitter, conflict can begin, which can bring out the worst in people.

Conflict occurs when two or more people disagree because of differing needs, wants, goals or values. Hurt feelings, anger, bruised egos and poor communication are all precursors of conflict.

Common Causes of Conflict:

- Different attitudes, values or perceptions
- Disagreements about needs, goals, priorities and interests
- Poor communication
- Poor or inadequate organizational structure
- Lack of teamwork
- Lack of clarity in roles and responsibilities
- Desire for power

"Conflict vs, Conversation". Talking about an issue helps address what could possibly just be a misunderstanding or miscommunication. We all have those days where we may be "off our game" we may be a little snippier than usual because we didn't get enough sleep or we're just having a bad day. This could cause our attitude to change drastically and our responses could be a little harsher than we anticipated – Does that ever happen to you?? I know it happens to me – and I'll snap at someone without realizing it. That can have several repercussions – 1. The person who I snapped at will realize that's not my normal demeanor and ask if something's wrong – avoiding a future altercation or 2. The person gets upset and makes a bigger deal of it than needs to be and the snowball rolls down the hill and creates a bigger hullabaloo than needs to be. Which one works better for the benefit of the organization and our mission? "Conversation vs. Conflict".

Again, I'd like to remind you of the resources available on the Department of FI website at: www.alafl.org and the National website at: alaforveterans.org.

Wishing you and your families a Wonderful, Happy and Healthy Thanksgiving.

VETERANS AFFAIRS & REHABILITATION

JANE HARDACRE

UPDATE: The VA Hospitals are now taking donations!!!

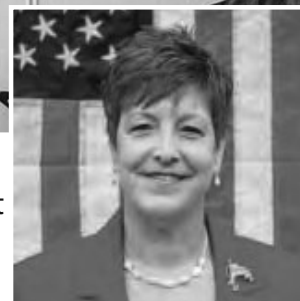

1. Start by calling the hospital's Volunteer Services.
2. You have to make an appointment to drop off donations.
3. Please follow the hospitals rules and guidelines.

Now that Florida has lifted some of the restrictions, we can help our Veterans even more! First things first, follow your county's CDC guidelines when dealing with our veterans, and our community. Here are some ideas to bring to your Unit meeting.

- Ask the Legion's permission to host a "Drive-By Donation Day" in the post parking lot. Inform the community that you are taking donations for our veterans. Advertise in the local newspaper; contact the media to see if they will put in their calendar of events on television. Create a Facebook event, create flyers, and post in grocery stores and VA clinics etc.
 - » When the public comes, they drive up to a designated place and pop their trunk! Your Unit members can pull the donations out of the trunk.
 - » Be specific as to what kind of items you need. (toiletries, canned goods, books etc.)
 - » Have Auxiliary membership applications handy.
 - » Create a hand out to give to the public on what your Unit does to support veterans, community, and children.
- Contact your local homeless shelter to see if they have any veterans.
 - » Ask what donations you can bring for the veterans.

- » Do those veterans have any children? If so, what can you provide for the children? Do they need clothes, school supplies, food, or snacks?
- » Is the shelter providing meals to these veterans? Offer to bring food, snacks, bedding, clothing etc.
- Contact your local VA clinic to see what needs they may have.
 - » Do they need coffee and donuts? You cannot serve in the clinic but you can have them delivered.
 - » Do they have an outreach program? Can you drop off travel hand sanitizers, handi-wipes etc.
 - » See if you can start dropping off veterans for their appointments.
 - » Each clinic is different! Find out how your Unit, and Members, can help.

As we enter the holiday months, may we be truly thankful for all of our blessings. I hope that you, and your families, stay healthy and safe.

PARLIAMENTARIAN

MARY KELLY-PERKINS

FUNDAMENTALS OF PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

Basic Parliamentary Principles

Parliamentary procedures exist to facilitate efficiently conducted meetings that protect the rights of members. Fundamental principles of parliamentary procedure:

- Fairness of process and courtesy for all.
- Only one thing, speaker, motion, or action at a time.
- The majority rules.
- The minority must be heard.
- Each proposition is entitled to a full and free debate.
- The purpose is to facilitate action, not to obstruct it.

Common Definitions

- Parliamentary procedure: Rules by which meetings of
- deliberative assemblies, societies, boards, clubs, etc.,
- are formally conducted.
- Chair: Short form of the word "chairman," used to refer to the member conducting the meeting.
- Gavel: The traditional mallet used by the presiding officer to maintain order.
- Quorum: The number of members needed to hold a - meeting as stated in the standing rules of an organization.
- Agenda: A list of the order of business to be considered.
- Minutes: A record of the meeting kept by the secretary.
- The secretary will read the minutes of the last meeting.
- Adjourn: To end a meeting officially.
- Amendment: A specific proposal to modify an
- organization's entity/governance documents.

Roles of Those Leading and Attending a Meeting

Roles of those responsible for the process of conducting the business of a meeting:

1. Chair: The presiding officer, usually the president (or vice president if president is unavailable), and is responsible for:

- Keeping the meeting on schedule and within time limits.
- Remains neutral by not entering into discussions.
- Expedites the transaction of business by preparing the agenda and keeping order during the meetings.
- States motions that are in order or rule them out of order; asks for discussion, asks for a second to the motion, puts motion to vote, and declares the result of the vote.

2. Vice president: Presides in the absence of the president or whenever the president temporarily vacates the chair (e.g., so she can join a discussion regarding a motion).

3. Parliamentarian: Appointed by the president, the parliamentarian serves as the expert on parliamentary procedure.

Duties of the parliamentarian before a meeting:

Reviews the agenda with the president to be familiar with the business and possible procedural problems that may arise. Reviews and knows the bylaws and standing rules of the organization. Works with committee members who request assistance in preparing reports for the meeting.

Secretary: In the absence of president and vice president, the secretary calls the meeting to order and entertains a motion for temporary chairman. The secretary sees that minutes of the meeting are taken – whether taken by herself or her designee – including recording the type of meeting (regular, special, etc.), place, date, hour, presiding officer, all motions and their disposal, names of makers of motions.

Treasurer: Custodian of funds of the organization; receives and disburses them upon authority from the organization. The treasurer reports on budget performance and the financial health of the organization to the assembly. If the treasurer is also an employee of the department, the budget and financial reports should always be prepared and reported by a Finance Committee chair or outside finance professional.

4. Members: All members whose current membership dues are paid are considered members in good standing and are entitled to all rights and privileges of membership, including those aspiring to and holding office, and voting in the ALA.

- Rise and address the chair if you want to discuss the motion under consideration or to offer another motion.

5. Committees:

Members of committees have no authority except that which is granted by bylaws or by a vote of the assembly.

- Unless otherwise provided, the member first named to a committee or the one receiving the largest number of votes is the chairman of the committee.
- Members of committees should not conduct business of the committee without a quorum present. A majority of committee members constitutes a quorum unless the assembly orders otherwise.
- Motions and resolutions originating in committees need no seconding, if the committee members are also members of the governing body. The already have been seconded by committee action.

Presenting a Motion

A proposal for action is made in the form of a motion. For the group to consider a motion, at least two members must be in favor of it.

The first member makes the motion. The second member seconds the motion to show agreement that the motion should come before the assembly. Seconding a motion does not signify that the member is in favor of the motion; she simply wishes the subject to be discussed.

There are eight simple steps in presenting a (main) motion:

1. The member rises and addresses the chair (chairman)
2. The member is recognized by the chair.
3. The member states her proposal.
4. Another member seconds the motion.
5. The motion is restated by the chair.
6. The chairman conducts the discussion.
7. The chairman puts the question to a vote.
8. The chairman announces the results
9. Procedure for Presenting an Amendment
10. Often, a motion under consideration does not indicate what the group really wants to do. An amendment is how a proposal is changed to get closer to the group's wishes. An amendment can change a motion by striking out, by adding, or by substituting.
11. The procedure below is followed when presenting amendments:
12. Step 1: The motion is made, seconded, and opened for discussion.
13. Step 2: The amendment is made, seconded, and open for
14. discussion.
15. Step 3: The chairman asks, "Is there further discussion?"
16. Step 4: Hearing no objection, the chairman restates the amendment.
17. Step 5: The chairman states, "The yes's have it. The amendment is carried, and the motion now reads..."
18. Step 6: The chairman then returns to a discussion, or debate, of the motion which is followed by a call for the vote, the vote, and announcement of the results.

We are now at the beginning of a new year. 2020-2021 is starting out under very different circumstances from the norm. Due to COVID-19 protocols and State mandates, we may need to find new ways to promote a successful Poppy Program and at the same time keep our members and community safe. Stay Strong Florida, we can do it!!

The 2020-2021 Poppy Program is on the Department of Florida website: www.alafl.org There are no changes from the prior year. Our aims and goals remain the same but the reporting dates have been updated. Please send your Unit reports to your District Chairman.

2019-2020 Poppy Program successes:

Fortunately, Covid-19 did not affect our overall numbers for 2019-2020 as they reflected Poppy Distributions in May and November 2019, before all the shutdowns occurred.

The Department of Florida reported eleven of sixteen Districts submitted 2019-2020 Year-End reports reporting activity since the 2019 Year-end reports. Approximately 59,119 poppies were distributed raising $71,716.16. Most notable: District 6 raised a total of $20,131.47, District 12, $10,627.96 and District 7, $10,145.50.

Based on Department Poppy Contribution reports it appears we only had about 75% of our revenue reported and little more than 50% of the poppies purchased distributed. Imagine if all were reported! Any, and all distributions should be reported, even if donations are not received. The distribution of poppies is as important as the donations collected, if not more important. It means we're spreading the word and keeping their memory alive.

Only one Little Miss Poppy Contest submission was received following guidelines which was submitted to Susan Hall, Southern Division Poppy Chairman June 19th, 2020. The Department of Florida Little Miss Poppy 2020 belongs to Evelyn DeRouin, Orlando Memorial Unit 19. Thank you Evelyn for representing the Department of Florida.

Six posters were submitted for the Poppy Poster Contest, all coming from Unit 286, Pinecastle. One Class II and five Class III and all made by local Girl Scout Troop. All the submissions were awesome making the decision to pick the winner difficult. Unfortunately, we couldn't submit all. The winning Class II and the Class III were forwarded to Susan Hall, Southern Division Poppy Chairman:
Class II: Julie Jomer, 5th Grade
Class III: Kamryn Kernaghan, 6th Grade

Runners up: Class III, Haley King, 7th Grade, Mia Madrid-Llorente, 6th Grade, Elyse Cherowitz, 7th Grade and Kirra Smithwick, 6th Grade.

Thank you for your participation and representing the Department of Florida.

District Presidents were asked to have their Units design a poppy for the National Poppy Chairman's "Centennial Poppy Project", submitting their District's winning poppy to Department by April 1. Five Poppies were received but only one was actually submitted by a District, all others were sent direct from Units. All submissions were considered and the winning Poppy was submitted by District 5, Kelly J Mixon Unit 9, Jacksonville. The poppy was forwarded to Beth McGinn, National Poppy Chairman on April 27th, 2020. The winner was posted with a photo of the Poppy in the May Mail Call.

Always saving the best for last, this year's Shirley Harbour Award for the best narrative outlining their Poppy Program is awarded to: Pinecastle Memorial Unit 286. Outstanding job Robin Shellhamer and Unit 286!

I wish you success for the 2020-2021 year. There are so many creative members in the Department of Florida I know you will find many new and innovative ways to keep the American Legion

Unit 5: Talk about Publix stores working together with the Community, helping our Veterans and Military Families In this photo one of the employees from store #1506 located in Britton Plaza Tampa Florida and dear friend named Robin who is from a military family, is shown with one of the mats that is made from store plastic bags. These mats are given to Veterans in need. The store had received many boxes with the wrong size bags and donated them to a local American Legion Unit 5. Even though the size is a little smaller than a normal grocery bag we can still make mats up from them. So far a total of 6 boxes have been donated and our unit has shared with others who also work on this project. In addition the daughter of the employee in the photo has stepped up and help unit 5 with coupons she has done over $8,000.00 worth { cutting, sorting and adding up the dollar amounts of each bundle. } When her mom and dad were deployed and were station in Germany she received the coupons and when they came back to United States, Robin did the same in return and mailed out coupons. Her daughter is following in her moms footsteps. Yes this young lady will be placed in for a Good Deed award.
