WHO CAN JOIN?

Membership in the American Legion Auxiliary is limited to the grandmothers, mothers, sisters, wives, and direct and adopted female descendants of American Legion members or deceased veterans (uncles do not qualify) who served in the Armed Forces during World Wars I and II, the Korean War, the Vietnam War, Grenada, Panama, and/or Lebanon conflicts, and the Persian Gulf War and to those women who of their own right are eligible for membership in The American Legion.

A qualified veteran is a service member, who served at least one day of active duty during the dates listed on the application on the next page, was discharged honorably AND, if living, is a current American Legion member. If the veteran is deceased, provide a copy of his/her DD-214 to show proof of veteran status during the dates listed on the application. If you need to obtain a DD-214, go to <http://www.archives.gov/veterans/military-service-records> and follow the instructions to request the DD-214. If you are a qualified female veteran, you can join the Auxiliary without being an American Legion member. If you are under age 18, you can join as an Auxiliary Junior member.

Descendants of veterans (great-granddaughters, etc.) often are presented with Junior memberships at birth or during childhood through the generosity of an older relative and Auxiliary member. Many of these young women continue their membership as Senior members once they reach age 18. Our voting strength at Department Conferences and Conventions is determined by our membership.

THE AMERICAN LEGION FAMILY

Auxiliary – Females are eligible for membership as described above.

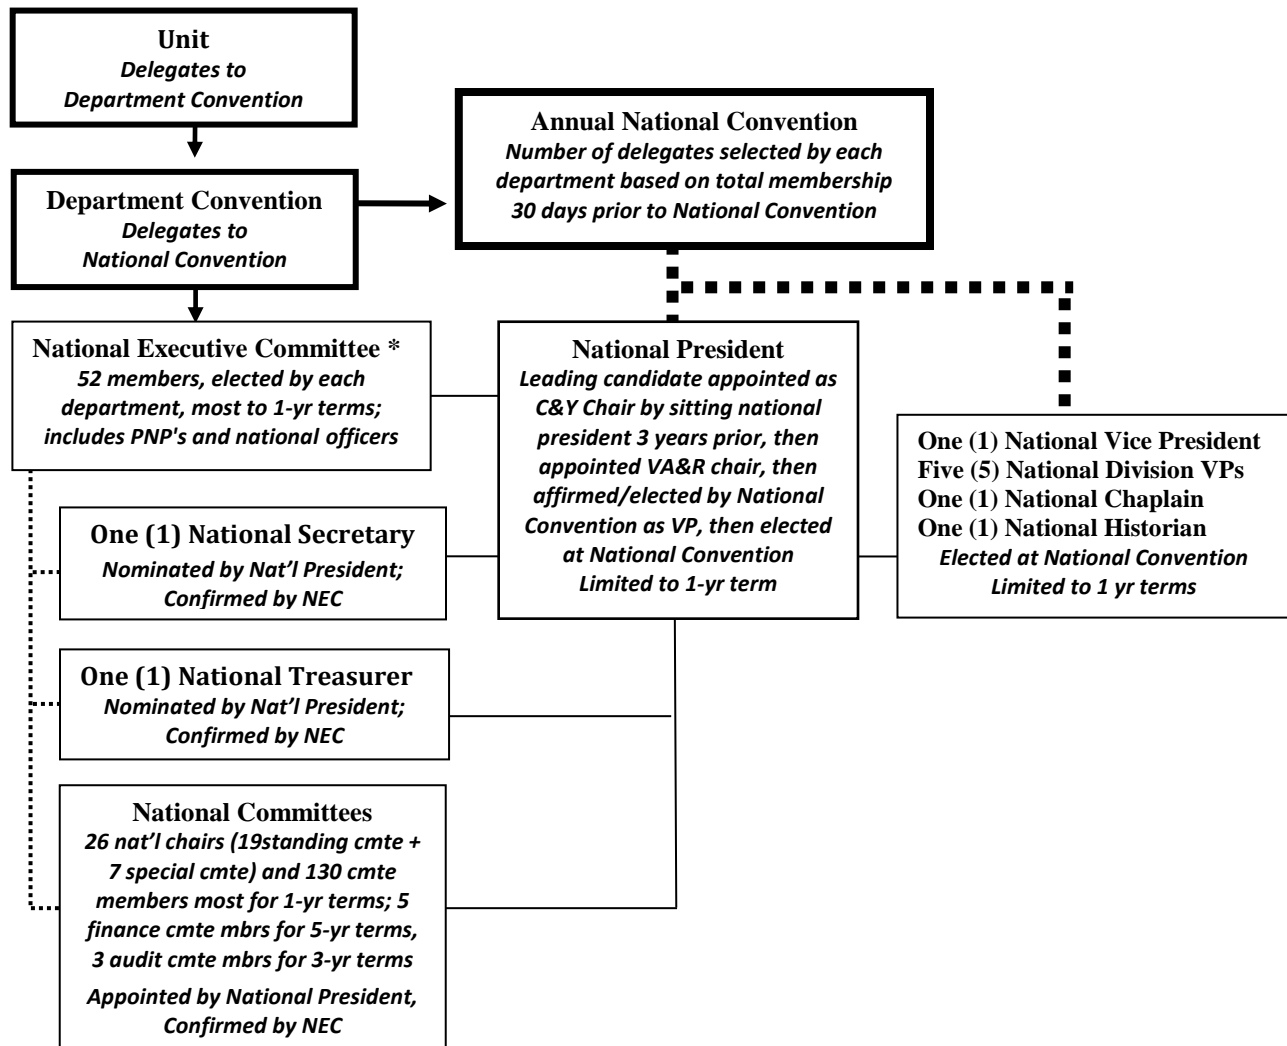

Sons of the Legion (SAL) - SAL members include males of all ages whose parents or grandparents served in the U.S. military and were eligible for American Legion membership.

American Legion Riders (ALR) -To become a member, you must be a current member in good standing of The American Legion, American Legion Auxiliary or Sons of the American Legion, be the owner of a motorcycle of at least 350cc engine and possess a valid driver's license in your state of residence ~or~ you must be a current member in good standing of The American Legion, American Legion Auxiliary or Sons of the American Legion and must be the legal spouse of an ALR member in good standing within the Chapter of application.

NOTE: Once you are accepted as an Auxiliary member the veteran under whom you are eligible does not need to maintain his/her Legion membership for you to remain in the Auxiliary as long as there is no lapse in your dues payments.

STRUCTURE OF THE AUXILIARY

American Legion Auxiliary Governance Structure

* The National Executive Committee (NEC) is the Auxiliary's Board of Directors

National (more than 750,000 members nationwide)

The name “American Legion Auxiliary” and the emblem are nationally owned, registered trademarks. The national organization, the highest level of the American Legion Auxiliary, provides Federal Group Tax Exemption for departments and units, and provides leadership for Auxiliary long-range planning, strategy and mission delivery. At the annual National Convention, new National Officers are elected by delegates from each State. Each State has a certain number of delegates/votes based on the number of members in that state. The national leaders of the American Legion Auxiliary consist of the National President, National Vice President, Five (5) National Division Vice Presidents, National Secretary, National Treasurer, National Chaplain and National Historian.

Department

The Department (state) level is our leadership for all the Auxiliary units in each State. Each year there is a State Convention where the new Department (state) Officers are elected by the units. Each unit has a certain number of votes based upon their membership strength (the reason why membership in a unit is so very important – to have a voice in State elections).

Unit

The unit is where the grassroots work of the Auxiliary takes place. There are nearly 9000 units nationwide. At the local level, The Legion is called a post and our Auxiliary is called a unit. A unit is attached to a Legion Post, taking its name, location and number, but we don’t have to meet at the Legion Post. If the Post is no longer active, a unit may continue to function as a “widow” unit.

A note about membership dues

A member’s dues are made up of three portions, the national, department and unit portion. The national dues amount is $9.00 for seniors and $1.25 for juniors. Each department and unit determines their own senior and junior rates. The amount shown on a members’ dues renewal notice is the total amount the member owes for the year. Dues are paid to the unit, who collect their portion and submit the department and national portion to their department. The department is responsible for paying the member online through the national database, ALAMIS.

UNIT OFFICER DUTIES

Duties of the Unit President

The Unit President must be an able and qualified leader for she represents the Auxiliary in her community and her Unit’s success or failure depends largely upon her. She should act in a leadership capacity, be familiar with the duties of all officers and committee chairmen, and encourage and inspire them in their work. It is the responsibility of the President to see that all officers are supplied with all available information and material from Department and National Headquarters for efficient promotion of their various activities. The Unit President has many duties. She presides at all Unit meetings and those of the Unit Executive Committee; adheres to the Constitution and Bylaws, and rules and regulations established by the Unit, National and Department Conventions, and National and Department Executive Committees; appoints members of standing committees; and may appoint members to other committees she deems advisable to further the mission of the Auxiliary; appoints non-elected officers and officials; and performs other duties as are usually incident to the office.

Duties of the Unit Vice President

The Unit Vice President is to preside at meetings in the absence of the President and assume such other duties as assigned to her by the Unit President. In our unit, the Vice President has responsibility for assisting the President in developing the Unit's annual program.

Duties of the Unit Secretary

The Unit Secretary occupies a pivotal position around which all activities of the Unit revolve. She should be efficient and well informed on all Unit, Department and National activities and requirements, and be capable of giving authentic information on organization matters. Duties of the Unit Secretary include:

- Makes a record of all business transacted at each meeting, including executive board meetings, and presents her minutes for approval at the next meeting.
- Counts a standing vote when requested by the President.
- Prepares a statement of unfinished business for the presiding officer's use at the next meeting.
- Has for reference at each meeting a list of all standing committee members, a copy of the Unit Bylaws, and correspondence sorted for reading.
- Forwards all name and address changes to Department Headquarters. Receipt of the national magazine by Unit members is dependent upon her efficiency in keeping membership contact information current.

Duties of the Unit Treasurer

An efficient Unit Treasurer is essential to the smooth functioning of the Unit and to ensure that proper accounting practices and internal controls are maintained. The Unit Treasurer is responsible for handling all Unit funds, including the collection of dues from members and donations to special funds. Department and National dues, as well as special fund donations, should be remitted to Department Headquarters at least monthly. The Unit's Constitution and Bylaws should specify that the Treasurer is responsible for providing a monthly financial report to the Unit executive board and others as required. The Treasurer should work with the Finance Committee to engage a professional to conduct an annual financial review or audit. Upon completion of the annual audit, the Finance Committee and/or Treasurer should submit the audited financials to the Unit executive board for acceptance. The Treasurer is also responsible for ensuring that appropriate tax forms are completed and filed in a timely manner.

Duties of the Unit Chaplain

The Unit Chaplain will express, by word and action, our founding principal of service to God and Country. She will encourage the Unit to celebrate the diversity among its members and their faiths. She will respectfully and confidentially provide spiritual and emotional guidance to members and their families as needed or requested. The Unit Chaplain is responsible for the invocation and benediction at Auxiliary meetings, and such other acts as would fall within the realm of spiritual leader for the Unit including, but not limited to: installation of officers and initiation of new members; dedication of halls, monuments or colors; Chaplain Services; POW/MIA recognition programs; and the memorial service of a member, always lending dignity and respect to the occasion. The Chaplain should stay in close contact with the President and other Unit officers and should attend all meetings of the Unit and Unit Executive Committee.

Duties of the Unit Historian

The Unit Historian is charged with recording the activities and accomplishments of her Unit during her term of office. Writing a Unit or Department history is a very important assignment. Through the years the recorded experiences of women who served before us have guided the footsteps of those who followed. Unit Historians are encouraged to present the factual running story of the accomplishments in each program. The description should be simple and concise. The quality and artistic value of the work depends upon the enthusiasm of the individual historian. Upon the Unit records, the history of a Department is written; Department records contribute to the history of the National organization.

Duties of the Sergeant-at-Arms

The Sergeant-at-Arms is responsible for keeping order at Unit meetings, for the advancement and retirement of the Unit colors and their proper care, and for such other duties as may be assigned to her by the Unit President.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY COMMITTEES / PROGRAMS

The National Organization has the following core standing committees: Veterans Affairs and Rehabilitation; Children and Youth; Americanism; National Security; Membership; Constitution and Bylaws; Finance; and Audit.

Additional national committees are: Auxiliary Emergency Fund; Cavalcade of Memories; Community Service; Education; Girls State; Junior Activities; Leadership; Legislative; Liaison with Child Welfare Foundation; Past Presidents Parley; Poppy; and Public Relations.

Most Departments follow this plan of committee organization. Units are encouraged to follow this plan to facilitate the coordination of Unit programs with Department and National programs. However, some units may find it difficult to fully implement each program well and choose to undertake only the core committees, or the core committees along with one or two of the committees associated with the core committees. For example, a unit may not have the resources to carry out the mission of the Education Committee, but can be successful with Children & Youth and Junior Activities. The key is to conduct mission outreach suitable to the interests, skills and experience of Unit members.

Each year the National Chairman of each standing committee publishes a Plan of Action outlining the mission, goals and “best practices” of each program. The National Plan of Action, along with the Department Plan, should be used as a guideline for the Unit. The national Plan of Action is available for download on the national Auxiliary website at www.AL4forVeterans.org or you can obtain a copy from your Department Headquarters.

Duties of Unit Committees

The Unit President should appoint a chairman and 1-4 members for each committee, recognizing that varying conditions and circumstances will determine which committees best suit the Unit’s plan of action. It is the duty of all committee members to become familiar with their respective program/committee and to encourage Unit members to participate in program related activities.

QUESTIONS ABOUT THE AUXILIARY

What is the primary purpose of the Auxiliary organization?

The American Legion Auxiliary was formed to aid The American Legion in carrying out the great program of peacetime service to America to which The American Legion is dedicated. All of the Auxiliary's activities are designed to promote the work of The American Legion and to help The American Legion reach its objectives. The first words of the Auxiliary preamble are "For God and Country." Members believe in the ideals and principles of America's founding fathers and pledge to foster patriotism, preserve and defend the Constitution, promote allegiance to God and Country, and uphold the basic principles of freedom of religion, freedom of expression and freedom of choice. Auxiliary programs were created to provide assistance, education and financial support for veterans and their families; in the community, the organization focuses on helping to create a better society, particularly for the nation's future citizens -- our children and young people.

What is the relationship between The American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary?

The Auxiliary is a part of The Legion family of service affiliates which also includes the Sons of the American Legion and the American Legion Riders. Local Auxiliary Units are affiliated with an American Legion Post and support Legion-sponsored activities through volunteer service and fundraising activities. While the Auxiliary has sometimes expanded its programs to meet the special needs of women and families, particularly military families, most programs augment or complement Legion programs.

What is the difference between the Auxiliary and other veterans' service organizations?

The American Legion Auxiliary, although not the first such organization, is the largest patriotic women's service organization in the world. Formed by The American Legion in 1919, the Auxiliary is a veterans' service organization with volunteer representation in all 173 VA Medical Centers. Nearly 800,000 Auxiliary members in 9,000 American communities provide a rich and varied resource pool of ability, talent and leadership experience.

What do Auxiliary members have in common?

Auxiliary members are women of all ages and from all walks of life. They are service-oriented with a variety of outside interests, activities and lifestyles. They are typically active in their communities and in other fraternal and/or religious organizations. They share a deep and abiding concern for their fellowman, great compassion for those in need and a sense of personal responsibility and commitment to God, country and community. Auxiliary members are patriots in every sense of the word. Their patriotism comes from the heart. It is not mandated through legislation or instilled by force. Their primary goals are to serve our veterans, to safeguard and nurture our nation's children and to educate all citizens, young and old, about the benefits, privileges and responsibilities of American citizenship.

What are the advantages of Auxiliary membership?

The Auxiliary is a remarkable organization with nearly 95 proud years of service to veterans and the nation's communities. In addition to the personal gratification and rewards gained in voluntary service, there are many tangible benefits for members of the Auxiliary. Members receive a complimentary subscription to the Auxiliary's national magazine and have exclusive access to a wide variety of discount services, insurance products, and professional financial services. Low-cost insurance products include life, health, dental, vision, Medicare supplement, and pet insurance. Members can also receive discounts for things such as eye-glasses, prescriptions, computers, cell phones, restaurants, department stores, and Disney World tickets. Auxiliary members who find themselves without other resources can obtain temporary, emergency financial assistance or money for schooling to re-enter the job market through the Auxiliary Emergency Fund.

What types of membership are available?

Membership applications can be obtained from units, department offices or National Headquarters. Members can renew their membership each year or purchase a lifetime membership called "PUFL" (Paid Up For Life)). Some units present "Honorary Life Memberships" to outstanding members, which means the unit will pay the member's dues for as long as she is a member of that unit. Many female veterans are members of both The American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary.

Poppy and Poppy Story

From the battlefields of World War I, weary soldiers brought home the memory of a barren landscape transformed by wild poppies, red as the blood that had soaked the soil. By that miracle of nature, the spirit of their lost comrades lived on.

The poppy became a symbol of the sacrifice of lives in war, and represented the hope that none had died in vain. The American Legion Auxiliary Poppy has continued to bloom for the casualties of four wars, its petals of paper bound together for veterans, reminding America each year that the men and women who have served and died for their country deserve to be remembered.

Poppy Day has become a familiar tradition in almost every American community. This distribution of the bright red memorial flower to the public is one of the oldest and most widely recognized programs of the American Legion Auxiliary.

This poppy, as a memorial flower to the war dead, can be traced to a single individual, Miss Moina Michael. She was so moved by Col. McCrae's poem that she wrote a response:

...the blood of heroes never dies
But lends a luster to the red
Of the flower that blooms above the dead
In Flanders' Fields.

On impulse, she bought a bouquet of poppies – all that New York City's Wanamaker's Department Store had – and handed them to businessmen meeting at the New York YMCA where she worked. She asked them to wear the poppy as a tribute to the fallen. That was November 1918. World War I was over, but America's sons would rest forever 'in Flanders' Fields.' Later, she would spearhead a campaign that would result in the adoption of the poppy as the national symbol of sacrifice.

*In Flanders Fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.*

*We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.*

*Take up our quarrel with the foe;
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.*
